

Finding a Domestic Supplier

Advantages:

Speed of delivery – get your stock faster and get your first Amazon listing up sooner

Disadvantages:

Less choice – you may not be able to find what you want

Minimum order – this may be higher than you are able/willing to purchase

Private Labelling – not always possible (we are covering this shortly)

Business status – some (not all) domestic suppliers will require you to have business status before placing any orders. So either a Sole Proprietor or a Company.

Domestic suppliers can offer a quick way to get started selling on Amazon, but you may not be able to find one that supplies the items you want to sell in a small enough quantity. However, this is still an option worth considering.

In this course you are going to learn to create your OWN listings on Amazon, so that you are not competing for the 'buy box' (remember the lecture about the two types of seller?). In order to create your own listing, you need a unique code for the product you want to sell. We will be covering all this shortly. When you purchase from domestic wholesalers, it's not always possible to apply your own unique code to a product. It depends on the wholesaler and on the products they sell. Kole Imports is one wholesaler where you CAN apply your own code to any product in their entire catalogue. However, this is not the case with all wholesalers.

We will cover this in detail in the 'Private Label' lecture coming up soon!

Here are the URL's of the domestic suppliers discussed in the video:
